TECHNICAL REGULATIONS

FOR

IAAF WORLD ATHLETICS SERIES

- Updated 27 October 2008 -

INTRODUCTION

The last printed version of the IAAF Competition Regulations was published in 1998. Since then, these regulations have been systematically updated to account for the many amendments and additions that have taken effect.

Due to the complexity and precision of the amendments, it became apparent that the re-editing of these regulations which govern the IAAF World Athletics Series Competitions was necessary.

In designing this revised version some modifications have been introduced to its structure and contents. Now, as some chapters have been removed and included in other organisational guidelines; the contents of these regulations essentially focuses on the technical aspects of competition organisation and conduct, and they are more appropriately titled “IAAF Technical Regulations”.

To the extent possible, a common structure has been maintained. Therefore, the order of chapters and numbering is basically the same amongst the sets of Regulations pertaining to each World Athletics Series Competition, whilst diverse items have been grouped in a more coherent manner.

The basic chapters, which apply to all the World Athletics Series Competitions, are now as follows:

1. General
2. Events Programme
3. Participation
4. Financial Conditions
5. Authority and Duties of the IAAF Council
6. Delegates and Officials
7. Technical Matters and Requirements
8. Protocol Matters

These Technical Regulations are subject to be amended to reflect any changes in the organisation and the conduct of IAAF World Athletics Series Competitions, which have been approved by the IAAF Council. When such amendments take effect; the IAAF will not print a new edition of the Regulations. The Regulations, including the updated chapters will be posted in the appropriate section of the IAAF Website, where they will be available for download.

We hope the Technical Regulations will provide you with a more understandable presentation of the Regulations that currently administer our World Athletics Series.

Any athlete aged 18 or 19 years on 31 December in the year of the competition (e.g. for the 2009 Championships, born in 1990 or 1991) may compete in any event except the Marathon and 50km Race Walk.

103.3.1 At least 18 months before the World Championships, the IAAF shall publish the Entry Standards and relevant criteria. "A" and "B" Entry Standards are set for all events, except the Relays and Marathon where there is only one standard.

103.3.2 The "A" and "B" Standards must be achieved during the period from 1 January in the year preceding the Championships (four months earlier for the Marathons, Race Walking and Combined Events) to the closing date for Final Entries. Such Entry Standards must be achieved in accordance with criteria decided by IAAF.

103.4. Entry Rules

103.4.1. A maximum of three athletes from any one Member can compete in each event with the exception of the Marathon (see 103.4.8) and Relays (see 103.4.9).

The Technical Delegates will decide whether or not to accept such entries and, to do so, may seek the opinion of the relevant Area Association.
- 103.4.6. Host Country – If the host country of the World Championships does not have a qualified athlete (or Relay team or Marathon Cup team) in an event, it may enter one athlete (or Relay team or Marathon Cup team) in this event regardless of any Entry Standard.

- 103.4.10. Relay Teams – A maximum of six athletes may be entered for each Relay Team. ALL athletes already entered in the corresponding individual events (100m or 400m) shall automatically count towards the six entries of the team. 103.5. Preliminary Entries

Preliminary Entry Forms in the IAAF standard format shall be sent out by the IAAF. OFFICIAL VIDEO RECORDING OPERATIONS GUIDELINES (IAAF RULE 150)Introduction:

The aim of this document is to provide technical information on the official video recording operations as required by IAAF Rule 150 in all competitions under 1(a) and (b) and how it may be best utilised in support of the Referee or the Members of the Jury of Appeal.

Objective:

The primary function of the Referees or Members of the Jury of Appeal shall be to decide on protests and appeals under IAAF Rule 146, and deal with any matters arising during the course of the competition which are referred to them for decision.

While there is no specific IAAF rule indicating the operation and procedure of the video recording, the Rule 146.3, in support of the Referee, states that “To arrive at a fair decision, the Referee should consider any available evidence which he thinks necessary, including a film or picture produced by an official video tape recorder” and Rule 146.6, in support of the Jury, states that “if the Jury of Appeal is in doubt, other available evidence may be considered. If such evidence, including any available video evidence, is not conclusive, the decision of the Referee shall be upheld”.

Sources of video:

1. Any host broadcast television coverage of the competition.

The range of coverage varies widely depending on the size and type of competition. A meeting should be arranged with the host broadcaster (HB) and IAAF to determine their camera locations and a process whereby the host broadcast coverage can be recorded and viewed.

In major athletic competitions, the host broadcaster is providing an extensive range of camera angles. It may happen that some 60 cameras are covering the field of play.

2. Any extra video provided by the Competition Management.

In support of the Host Broadcaster, the Competition Management shall have in place a sufficient number (at least 4-5) of technical video camera positions, operated by sport volunteers with a good knowledge of athletics. These cameras can be located on HB platforms but shall be focused on aspects of the races different from the commercial coverage provided by the HB. The technical cameras can be fixed or (especially if only few are available) following the race (“sweeping”).

Process for Technical Video:

The stated objective of technical video recording is to provide evidence in support of the Referee or Jury of Appeal. It is natural that the focus of any video should be on likely protests and appeal issues. The most likely protests and appeals (Track) involve the following issues:

- 145.2 unsporting manner, improper conduct
- 144.2 assistance not allowed by the rules

Track Events:

- 162.7 false start
- 162.9 breakline infringement (1000m, 2000m, 3000m, 5000m, 10 000m)
- 163.2 jostling, obstruction on the track
- 163.3 lane infringement
- 163.5 breakline infringement (800m)

163.6 leaving the track - returning to the race

Hurdles:

168.6 running out of lane

168.7 hurdle fault (not jumping a hurdle, trailing leg, jumping hurdle in another lane, deliberate knocking down a hurdle)

Steeplechase:

169.7 water jump or obstacle fault (not jumping a hurdle, stepping beside the jump, trailing leg)

Relays:

170.5 breakline infringement (4x400m, 4x200m)

170.7 starting out of allowed distance (4x100m, 4x200m)

170.8 starting out of zone
breakline infringement (4x400m)

170.9 exchanging positions before take-over (4x400m)

170.10 jostling, obstruction at take-over (also 170.15)

170.13 fault at recovering a dropped baton, finishing the race without the baton

170.14 early/late take-over

170.16 assistance by pushing

170.17&18 infringement of the substitution rule

Race Walking:

230.9 taking refreshment out of official station

230.12 leaving the track without permission, lessening distance when returning to the race

Road Races:

240.4 leaving the track without permission, lessening distance when returning to the race

240.9 taking refreshment out of official station

Cross Country Races:

250.5 leaving the track without permission, lessening distance when returning to the race

Indoor Competitions:

214.9 breakline infringement (400m, 800m)

217.1 breakline infringement (4x200m)

217.2 breakline infringement (4x400m)

217.3 breakline infringement (4x800m)

(Field Events – see later below)

Events run in lanes

In general the HB will provide detailed coverage of events run in lanes. However, to supplement this, technical video coverage should be focused on the bends in lane events. For 400m hurdles events the technical video should also focus on the chest and legs of athletes as they go over the hurdle.

Relay Events

In relay events there are a number of critical areas for the technical video to focus on and it is difficult to cover everything. The most important aspects are:

The relay baton must be passed in the take-over zone. It is important to note that only the location of the baton within the take-over zone is critical.

If a baton is dropped, particular attention should be paid to the recovery of the baton.

In the 4x100m, athletes may not start running before the mark 10m before the zone.

The 3rd and 4th athletes in the 4x400m once placed in position by the official (based on teams' order at the 200m mark) must maintain that order even if their team is passed in the final straight.

The 3rd and 4th athletes must also start running within the take-over zone (10m either side of the start/finish line).

Non-Lane Events

In the 800m there are two areas for the technical video to focus. Firstly, the breakline where the athletes change from lanes to non-lane – athletes may not leave their allocated lanes before reaching the breakline marked on the track (marked at each end by a flag and by small cones placed immediately before the intersection of the lane lines and the breakline). Secondly, any pushing and/or jostling in the following “pack” which may cause an athlete to fall or be obstructed during the race – the HB is generally focused on the leader/s and not on the pack following.

Field Events

Additional cameras placed on the take-off board (long & triple jump) and on the throwing circles (ground view) are very useful to see infringement to Rule 185.1 and Rule 187.13 respectively. In major competitions the HB may provide these cameras.

Technical Aspects:

The technical video room should be located in the stadium – if possible – near the TIC and Competition Secretariat and not too far from the Jury of Appeal's room. The room shall have monitors and video players depending on the number of feeds available throughout the competition. The room shall also have a separate monitor and video player for the replay of video-cassettes (both from the technical video cameras and from the HB recorded feed) whilst the competition is still underway. The systems used for the recordings must be taken into consideration and tested when installing the players.

The Jury's room shall also be equipped with a monitor and video player for the replay of video-cassettes (preferably with a very good slow motion replay).

Technical assistance shall be provided for the smooth operation of all equipment in these areas.

A fast and reliable communication means is required between the chief of the video operations and the volunteers operating the technical cameras. The Referees and the Jury must be able to access and check the recordings in a short period of time.

Types of video cameras

The technical cameras shall have a zoom function for close-ups. The recording should include the date and time of day on the picture. The battery life should allow for sufficient recording time, and reserve batteries should be available for immediate replacement.

A number of tripods should also be provided for use with television platforms or other suitable locations on the stands.

Technical video camera locations

The technical cameras shall be located on locations (platforms) around the Stadium. The main objective of the camera locations is to provide coverage of the issues described previously. The video positions should preferably be elevated enough to provide a downward angle and wider coverage.

The cameras should be situated on platforms or other suitable areas around the stadium (area of about 0.9m x 1.8m)

- 1) Position A – 2nd bend first part

- 2) Position B – 2nd bend second part
- 3) Position C – 1st bend first part
- 4) Position D – 1st bend second part
- 5) Additional positions are required for the Relays. (e.g. in line with start and finish of take-over zone for 4x400m 2nd, 3rd and 4th runner)

AREA CHAMPIONS AUTOMATIC QUALIFICATION REGULATIONS

In November 2007 the IAAF Council approved the principle by which the Area Champions automatically qualify for the IAAF World Championships in Athletics. This principle will be implemented for the first time for the 2009 World Championships in Berlin, GER.

Below are the specific Regulations which govern the application of this principle.

1. The Area Champion in each individual event (except the Marathons) automatically qualifies for the World Championships, irrespective of whether his performance has reached the "A" or "B" standard.
2. The Area Champion shall be the one who has achieved the title within the qualification period stipulated for the World Championships, or at the Area Championships held closest to the on-coming World Championships. If an Area does not have Area Championships every two years, then the Area may organise an alternate event to select the Area Champion in that vacant year.
3. The Member Federation of the Area Champion will have the ultimate authority to enter the athlete or not, based on its own domestic standard or qualification system.
4. If the Member Federation of the Area Champion enters the athlete, he will be considered as having achieved the "A" standard.
5. If the Area Champion, due to any reason, is not entered, this quota will not be delegated to the second placed athlete and the normal entry rules and conditions apply.
6. For those Area Championships that do not have certain events, the Area Associations can organise alternate Area specific event Championships with conditions conforming to Area Championships Regulations.
7. For an Area having restricted Area Championships, the Area Association may specify an existing competition of a suitable standard for the purpose of identifying the Area Champion. In such cases, it is necessary that all Member Federations within the Area be invited to compete in this Competition.
8. For the Marathon / Marathon World Cup, the current qualification principles still apply.
